PRESIDENT CHARTS BATTLE STRATEGY AGAINST HOUSE-APPROVED BUDGET SLASHES

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today charted battle strategy against a House-approved 47-million-dollar budget cut he says would prove "harmful to the United States in conduct of foreign affairs."

The President yesterday voiced opposition to a reduction by the House in the $227,700,000 fund he had asked for the State Department and its foreign service operations for the fiscal year starting July 1. The President will end his work-and-vacation trip to Georgia tomorrow and return to Washington.

The administration has decided to seek restoration of "the great majority" of the cut, Eisenhower's headquarters announced after he discussed the matter by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles.

The Cabinet officer is to go before the Senate Appropriations Committee tomorrow to outline his views and the President's—and to urge that the Senate refuse to go along with the House reduction.

Eisenhower is taking a personal hand in the effort by helping with preparation of Dulles' statement. After the Eisenhower-Dulles phone conference, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen:

"The President and the secretary believe that the cuts made by the House in the State Department's budget are harmful to the United States in the conduct of foreign affairs."

Hagerty recalled Eisenhower said recently that whenever Congress voted specific cuts in the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget, he would have the departments affected take a look and decide whether the reductions could be absorbed without harm.

When the decision was that harm would result, the President said, "restoration of the money would be sought."

And that was the decision in the case of the State Department, Hagerty said.

This is the second specific cut Eisenhower personally has protested. The first was a House-approved 26 per cent reduction in the 144 million dollars requested for the United States Information Agency. The Senate has yet to act on the President's appeal for restoration of most of that cut.

With Congress in a budget-cutting mood there is a big question whether Eisenhower will be successful in his appeals.

Ex-Sheriff Is Witness Before Board Hearing

Harrisburg (AP)—Austin A. Meehan, former Republican sheriff of Philadelphia, said today that at least six different occasions he spoke to members of previous pardons boards on behalf of persons seeking clemency.

Meehan told a legislative committee probing the State Pardons board that he carried a personal appeal to all four members of a previous Republican board on behalf of Lester Gore, Philadelphia.

Gore was sentenced to 1 to 3 years on charges of perjury in connection with a 1953 grand jury investigation in operation of the Philadelphia Zoning Board of Adjustment. He was executive secretary of the board.

Sen. Joseph J. Yonko (D-Northampton) asked Meehan if he ever tried to help Gore obtain commutation or pardon which he ultimately did receive.

"Certainly I tried to help him," Meehan replied.

Meehan repeatedly said that he did not attempt to use any political influence in seeking clemency (Turn to Page Nine)

Former Engineers For TVA Retained By Seneca Indians

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph yesterday quoted two engineers as saying the proposed dam at Kinzua near Warren may not be the most feasible or economical flood control program for the Allegheny River.

The newspaper said that Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, and his associate, Barton Jones, outlined their views on the 101 million dollar dam in a letter to O. H. E. Sprague, chief of the Army Engineers here.

The Sun-Telegraph quoted the two engineers as saying:

"It seems clear to us that the permanent and complete removal of flood waters from the upper Allegheny can be accomplished by diversion, with greater benefits of every kind than would be accomplished by the construction of the Kinzua Dam, and probably at very substantially less cost."

Sprague has said that proposal to divert Allegheny River flood waters into Lake Erie are uneconomical.

The newspaper said Dr. Morgan has been retained by the Seneca Indian Nation, which is opposing the dam on grounds it would flood their reservation in lower New York State.

County Commissioners File an Exception to Auditor's Report

For the first time since Warren county became an official political subdivision in 1819, county commissioners this year have filed exceptions to the annual auditors' report.

County Solicitor Richard Leutold last week filed a 10-part list of exceptions, nine of which mentioned specific items and a tenth exception which excepted "generally to every item set forth in Auditors' Report and Advertised Auditors' Report" and asked the permission of Judge Alexander C. Flick "for leave to file exception to any item of income, disbursement expense after an amended and corrected report be filed by the auditors in the form and manner required by law, Act of Assembly, August 9, 1955, and thereafter amended and supplemented."

Court House officials expressed bewilderment at the exceptions, Judge Flick having already signed and thereby given unofficial approval to the books of at least one official (and probably all of them).

It was conjectured that county commissioners Blain Mead, Lewis Crippen and L. L. Johnson (in the order signing the exception) took exception mainly to lack of itemization of the first nine items in their appeal.

County auditors are Charles Brigg of Garland, Merle Jordan and Ralph Summerton of Tidoute.

Harrisburg (AP)—A close vote was expected today in the Senate on a bill for a statewide referendum on the question of legalizing horse race betting in Pennsylvania.

Proponents of the highly controversial proposal claimed the necessary 26 votes for approval of the measure, which is strongly opposed by church forces, but conceded the roll call would be close.

The measure, with bipartisan support, would place this question on the ballot at the November election.

"Do you favor horse race betting with legal wagering within the commonwealth?"

The results of the referendum would be transmitted to the next Legislature but would only be advisory, and not binding on the lawmakers.

Sen. Benjamin R. Ronolow (D-Phila) predicted that 21 Democratic senators would vote for the measure. Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) said seven Republicans were counted for the bill.

In the House, the Republican leadership planned to place before the GOP caucus a bill calling for a much broader referendum on gambling and Sunday activities.

Blakley was stricken again yesterday while his wife, Mary, stood at his bedside. Nurses and physicians rushed to his room but their efforts to save him proved to be in vain and death came.

Meany Rejects Negotiations On Beck Ouster

Washington (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany today rejected a proposal by Teamsters Union President Dave Beck for negotiations on Beck's ouster as an AFL-CIO officer in advance of May 20 hearing on corruption charges.

Beck on April 18 asked Meany to name a five-man committee of AFL-CIO Executive Council members to confer with another five-man group named by Beck "for the purpose of discussing my suspension."

Meany replied today that he would not name such a group but would convey Beck's request to the 28-member AFL-CIO Council for such action as it desires at the May 20 meeting. Meany noted Beck will have a full opportunity to discuss his case at that time if he shows up.

The exchange of correspondence between Meany and Beck stems from Beck's suspension by the AFL-CIO Council on March 29 as both an AFL-CIO vice president and a Council member.

The Council acted after Beck refused to answer questions before the Senate's Committee on Labor and Human Resources, invoking the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination.

False Alarm Draws 500 to Jamestown Airport; Plane OK

While hundreds of spectators watched, including a passenger-to-be from Warren on a twin-engine Piper Apache circled Jamestown airport for half an hour yesterday afternoon when a faulty mechanism signaled that the retractable front landing wheel had failed to lock in landing position.

Then, with fire engines at both ends of the landing strip, the crowd held its breath while pilot Glenn Whiting of Titusville made a perfect landing. The cockpit mechanism which blows a horn if the nose wheel fails to lock was found to be misfiring because of clogged dirt.

The plane chartered by Selva, was touching at Jamestown to pick up company comptroller Stan Doebler of Big Four Road for a business trip to Rochester, N. Y. The flight was resumed without incident.

The pilot had radioed Jamestown Airport when the cockpit alarm sounded and sirens from four fire trucks brought an estimated 500 persons to the scene.

Ludlow—At the regular meeting of James Ober American Legion Post, announcement was made of Memorial Day Exercises to be held at Gibbs Hill cemetery, beginning at 10 30 a. m.

The Rev. Richard Peterson, of First Mission church, will be the speaker; Moriah Choir will assist with the music. Further details will be announced at a later date.

The Legionnaires are doing some beautiful remodeling work in the basement of the American Legion Hall which will eventually be used as a meeting place and lounge, as well as available to the public for rental.

The Legion has purchased 96 folding chairs with gifts from interested people and six tables given by the Baseball Club in memory of George Anderson, manager for years. The Auxiliary also has given six memorial tables. In addition the Auxiliary recently purchased 12 dozen sets of stainless steel tableware.

The American Legion Hall and DeForest Pavilion at Wildcat Park are the only two buildings open for rental in Ludlow. American Legion Hall is open the year around and consequently has become a focal point for local community events, such as dances, large dinners, wedding receptions. All events for the American Legion take place here, other than plays, which have been given in the school, and events scheduled all summer at Wildcat Park.

The Legion is busy with its summer schedule for the support of baseball and the concession stand at the park.

Warren's Y.M.C.A. Hi-Y Club of Over Forty Years Ago

The above photo will be one of the points of interest in a display of old photographs at the annual meeting of the YMCA on May 22nd at the Association building. This is a dinner meeting of "Bill" Yeager's Hi-Y Club of 1915-16 taken in the banquet hall of the then new building, where during the past 40 years many "Y" clubs of this kind have met. At a board of directors meeting at the "Y" Alan F. Templeton, president of the YMCA and Harold S. Hampson came the young men in the above photo, reading from the first row back and from left to right as follows: first row—Leroy Dove, Wallace Schuler, Earl Sundell, Anderson Schofield, Arthur Fehlman, Douglas Smith and Eugene Baker, second row, Geo. H. Miller, Lloyd McNulty, Donald Dove, (un-named), Robert Adams, Tex Taylor, Albert Gustafson and Webster Weir; third row—A. F. Kottcamp, general secretary, Burton J. Bell, Gerald Phillips, — Schultz, Kenneth Davis, Alan H. Templeton, Marshall Hanson and Don Phillips; fourth row—Dr. H. R. Robertson, Leon Tarbox, Leonard Crandall, Ted Dunigan, Clint Dinsmore, Byron Knapp and Bill Burkhardt. Bill Yeager, founder of the club, was doubtless helping the photographer when this photo was snapped.

One of the features of this year's annual YMCA banquet on May 2nd will be first hand reports by boys of club activities of the past year in the presently very active boys' division of the "Y" now under the leadership of "Jeff" Riedel.

The guest speaker at this year's banquet will be Max Darone, general secretary of the Erie YMCA, and reservations may be made by calling the "Y" office.

Men Representing 997 Years of Service to PRR Will Be Feted At Banquet in KOC on Sunday

Twenty-six retired employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be honored at a banquet to be held at the Knights of Columbus hall in Warren Sunday, May 5th at two p. m. The meal will be served by the ladies of the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary.

This will be the largest party of its kind in the history of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The men who have left the largest railroad corporation in the world have a combined service of 997 years and an average of 39 years in the employ of this transportation company.

Those who are to be honored are: E. F. Munson, freight house tally man 51 years; George Damm, ticket clerk, 49 years; J. M. Gray, brakeman, 49 years; E. J. Ernst, operator, 46 years; John M. Silvis, conductor, 44 years; John Long, car repairman, 42 years; O. B. Kinney, agent, 38 years; R. S. Holcomb, car inspector, 39 years; J. P. O'Brien, conductor, 39 years; Peter Molinaro, trucker, 37 years; Fred Fehlman, tallyman, 40 years; Sylvester Mullen, brakeman, 34 years; I. R. Johnson, machinist, 31 years; Carl Swanson, conductor, 31 years; George J. Kennedy, conductor, 22 years; W. P. Reigle, boiler maker, 22 years; J. F. Nordin, ticket clerk, 35 years of Warren; Roscoe Patch, operator, Irvine, Pa. 49 years' service; L. L. Gearhardt, car repairman, 42 years, in Florida; Fred Doubles, ticket clerk, 43 years; Fritz Mader, locomotive engineer, 43 years; C. F. McKenna, car repairman, 39 years; Joe Wecllo, laborer, 39 years; R. F. Ecklund, conductor, 27 years; Mauk Curran, electrical helper 32 years; John Monturo, machinist helper 24 years, of Kane.

The retired employees of the Maintenance of Way are not included in this gathering, due to the fact that a party was held in their honor when 18 were present not long ago in Warren for a similar event.

Eight Barrels of Oil Are Bailed From Well at Pithole

Titusville Herald: An eight-barrel tank was bailed full of oil from a well shot Friday noon near Pithole, Jack Morrison of Oil City, RD 1, one of the owners and drillers of the well, told The Herald.

The oil was bailed from the 33 feet of Red Valley sand and the tank was the only one on the property, he said. The second sand, shot at the same time, was not cleaned out. The well will be bailed again today after another tank is placed on the property.

Mr. Morrison said that after the shot of 220 quarts of nitroglycerine the well showed "an awful lot of gas" and bailing had to be delayed.

The top of the Red Valley was reached at 607 feet and the top of the second sand, 22 feet thick, was struck at 710 feet. The nitro charge was four quarts to the foot of sand. Ed Kinnear of the Otto Cupler Torpedo Co. did the shooting.

The well is located in President Township at the head of Muskrat Run. Mr. Morrison's brother, Joe, of Seneca, is his partner in the venture.

Mr. Morrison said it looks like a nice well with a "wonderful showing" expected in the second sand.

Howard Blum of Tionesta, the driller, put down the first gas well in the field near Renovo some years ago for Jess Calkoun.

Mr. Morrison said they now plan to shoot an old hole some 300 feet away from the well. The hole had never been shot.

CEMETERY BOARD

The annual meeting of Westview Cemetery Association will be held at 8:00 p. m. Monday, May 13, at the home of President Ben Huckabone, at Starbrick.

3-Way Accident and Drinking Feature Weekend of Driving

One charge of drunken driving and a three-way accident causing an estimated $1,200 highlighted the weekend highway hit parade.

Most expensive mishap occurred at 2:15 p. m. Saturday one mile and a half south of Sugar Grove on Route 27.

Police said a man identified as John Crowl of Chancellers Valley was driving north on Route 27 when he failed to stop in time to avoid Arthur C. Engstrom, 69, of RD 2, Sugar Grove. Crowl, said troopers, ricocheted off the right rear of the Engstrom machine and piled across the left lane into a third vehicle operated by E. Thorsten Peterson, 48, of Falconer street, Jamestown.

Damages were estimated at $1,200.

At 2:20 p. m. Friday, Paul F. Kiernan, 51, of Riverside Hotel, was heading west on Pennsylvania avenue when his car struck a vehicle parked across from Guffie's Store and owned by George P. Gardner. Gardner was nearby at the crash and gave chase to the offender, finally heading him off at Pennsylvania avenue and Crescent street. Kiernan was charged with drunken driving. His car sustained $25 damage, the other machine $50.

At 10:50 a. m. Friday, troopers reported John Volk, 30, of Columbus was heading north on Market street at the Pennsylvania avenue intersection when his truck fender, denting a stopped machine operated by LaVerne Benson, 24, of Devittville, N. Y.

The Benson vehicle sustained an estimated $50, the truck was not damaged.

Warren High Homemaking Students Stage Their Annual Fashion Show

One of the annual springtime events in Warren High School each year is the Style Show staged by the Homemaking Department, when the students invited parents and friends to view the garments they have made in classes and as home projects during the school months.

The 1957 Style Show was given Thursday evening in the school auditorium for an appreciative audience and a repeat performance provided the program for a double assembly for the student body on Friday morning.

With Darlene Peterson, Becky Norris and Judy Moore as commentators, the girls modeled in three scenes articles made for school, street and dress-up occasions.

In the final scene they were joined by Ronald Sandeen, Bob Saunders, Dave Sedwick, Jim Griffin and Dick Krenner, who were outfitted by the Logan Men's Wear Shop.

Ann Lodging was at the piano for background music; between-scenes entertainment included a saxophone solo by James Watt; vocal trio, Betty DeLong, Joyce Donaghy and Rita Musante; clarinet quartet, Carol Briggs, Ann Wendelboe, John Urbatis and Barbara Johnson.

The Mature Parent

Inflexible Judgment of a Child's Character Is Unreal

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

RELATIVES were visiting Wendell's grandparents. Among them was his cousin Betty, aged nine, his senior by two years.

After lunch, their Grandma suggested that Betty teach Wendell a certain card game. The instruction was unclear. After losing the first game to Betty, Wendell wanted to check the safety of a slingshot he'd left in the car. But his mother, on to this evasive strategy, said, "No, play another game with Betty, dear."

So he lost two more games to his cousin. When he found himself left Old Maid for the third time, the defeat was too heavy to bear. Shoving cards wildly to the floor, he threw his queen of spades at Betty, yelling, "You're the Old Maid, not me—and you're a cheater too!"

IN the ensuing uproar, Wendell's aunt passed angry moral judgment on him. "He's just spoiled, that's all!" she cried. "He just has to have his own way..."

This pronouncement had, of course, no basis in fact. Wendell had resisted defeat not because he was "spoiled" but because he had not yet acquired the self-assurance he needed to tolerate defeat. His deficiency was not one of character, but of experience.

Unfortunately, he didn't know this. So he thought his aunt's judgment of him was right and assumed that he suffered from a permanent character flaw. Without quite knowing it, he thought, "Hereafter I will avoid competitive games whenever possible lest I again expose myself as 'spoiled'."

Today, though Wendell has developed the skills he needs to play many kinds of games, he prefers to watch others play them to joining in them himself.

SINCE children are in a process of continual change and growth, it is unrealistic to pass inflexible moral judgments on their characters.

If corrected kindly, the Johnny who lied to us today will in three months have developed the strength to admit unpleasant truth. The Mary whose carelessness seems such a problem needs only to lose that new ballpoint pen of hers to begin to express more responsibility. It is only when we treat these passing deficiencies as permanent character flaws that Johnny and Mary do not outgrow them.

Why do we treat them as permanent flaws? For one reason only: We have not become aware of how we ourselves have outgrown misjudgments of us.

Student Coming Here

The welcome mat will be out in all of Warren late this summer, when Miss Vilumin Benedicto comes here from La Carlota High School in the Philippines to become the first exchange student sponsored by the Warren High School Student Council.

Versatility Marks Furniture Design

These coordinated furnishings are budget priced. Walnut game table opens into dining table. Chairs are ebony and walnut. On-the-wall storage unit rests on adjustable brass arms.

Change of scene is accomplished handily with tailored covers which fit snugly over black plastic upholstery. Turquoise-and-black striped fabric is imported; furniture is beige mahogany.

BY KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer

YOUNG couples shopping for furniture have rarely had it so good. Furniture manufacturers survey their tastes, budgets and needs in order to beam more products directly at this market.

If you're part of this market, what will you find? Judging from prominent collections, your taste leans toward contemporary styling and is discriminating enough to want the fine details of higher-priced furniture. You will find plenty of fine woods, such as walnut and mahogany; restrained use of brass to highlight design; smooth, tightly woven upholstery fabrics.

Knowing that young couples often progress from a small apartment to a small modern house, designers have accented the interchangeability of their pieces.

Reducing the bulkiness of furniture to suit small rooms without reducing its comfort has been a major objective. Exposed wood frames with slim wooden arms instead of upholstered ones help achieve it. Narrower, straightened upholstered sofas, set off the floor on exposed wood bases or metal tipped legs, look less formidable than many older styles.

Basic wooden chests are versatile. They can be pushed together to present a smoothly balanced facade or used separately. Other standard-sized open or closed cabinets are shown stacked on separate bench-bases.

To avoid monotony in such arrangements, case fronts may be scored horizontally or vertically; drawer pulls are variously placed.

On-the-wall storage is a big feature. Walnut strips mounted on the wall hold brass supports which hook into a variety of shelves, drawers or cabinet units.

The young, growing family's need for practical and easily maintained furniture has not gone unnoticed. Many of the upholstery fabrics are treated to resist spots and soil.

In the new budget collection designed by Merton Gershun the trim, foam rubber cushions can be ordered covered in black plastic. The black contrasts smartly with the soft beige tone of the mahogany frames. And plastic is almost as child-and-animal-proof as any covering can be.

The manufacturer also makes tightly fitting separate covers in a regular upholstery-weight fabric, to pull over the plastic for a change.

Bridge Activities For Area Players

Of interest to area duplicate enthusiasts is announcement of several bridge events on the spring-supper calendar.

First of these is the monthly Master Point game of the Jamestown Bridge Center Wednesday night of this week in the Jamestown American Legion clubrooms; second, first in a series of New York-Pennsylvania Out games May 5 at Marconi Dining Club, with full Master Points and prizes to be awarded.

Thus latter game will start promptly at 2.00 o'clock, with election of officers in a brief meeting preceding the play. Marconi Bridge Club has its regular tournament at 8.00 p. m. today in the downtown social rooms; Down One Club will play in the Jamestown Legion at 8.00 p. m. Tuesday.

CIRCLE MEETING

MRS. FREDERICK C. NEWMAKER, JR.

Easter lilies, centered with a large white illuminated cross formed an impressive setting in Grace Methodist church April 20 for the marriage of Sylvia Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Smith of 604 Edgewood street, to Frederick Charles Newmaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Newmaker, 348 East Fifth avenue.

The Rev. C. W. Baldwin performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p. m. Richard Pratt was at the console to play "Walk Hand in Hand", "You'll Never Walk Alone", "All the Things You Are", and traditional wedding airs. Ray Bennett sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer".

With a ballerina length gown of lace and tulle, the bride carried a white Eble topped with a yellow-throated orchid and shower of white streamers tied with tiny white hyacinth florets. The fitted lace bodice of her gown featured a sabrina neckline and saxon sleeves, the bouffant skirt of tulle over hoops was accented with lace appliques in points. Completing her outfit, her veil of silk illusion fell fingertip length from a cap sprinkled with rhinestones, and her tiny pearl earrings were the bridegroom's gift.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, she had as her only attendant her cousin. Rosanne Cochran. Her Alice blue ballerina gown was styled on princess lines, with full skirt, and was matched by a veiled-cap. Her flowers were a colonial arrangement of yellow carnations and net, with blue hyacinths and yellow streamers.

Richard Newmaker was best man for his brother; ushering were Charles Johnson, John Timm and Wilford Winner.

She Paints With the Crowd in Mind

BY AILEEN SNODDY
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Once upon a time a little girl named Shirley Tattersfield and another little girl named Grace Kelly matched pinkies in Philadelphia.

Life has put them both on a pink cloud. Only Shirley paints her own cloud. Her postage-stamp kingdom is a paint-splattered scaffold in department stores.

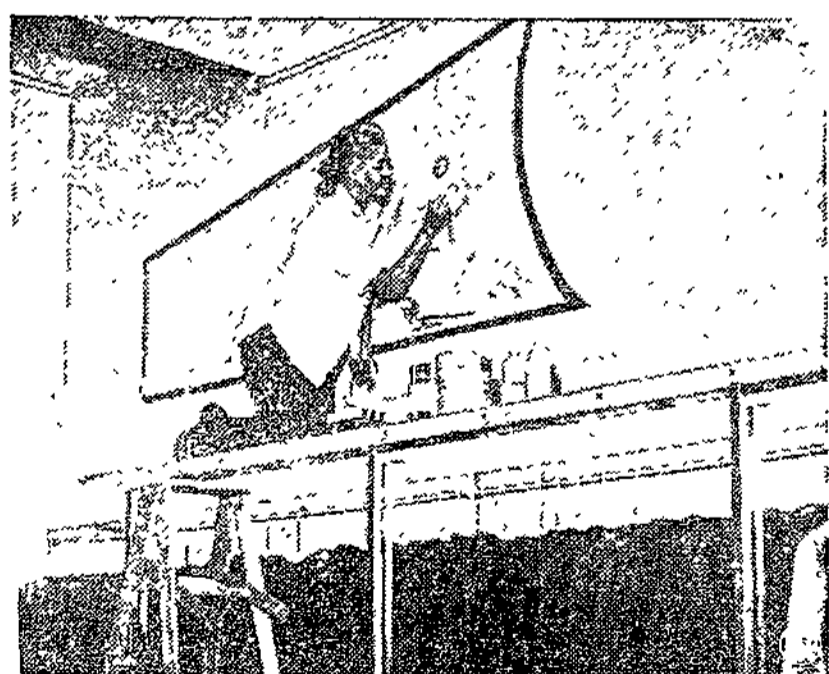

From her muddle days Shirley wanted to be an artist. A Philadelphia society debut, modeling career and movie contract didn't stop her. Today she is one of the few women to succeed in the field of murals and displays for department stores.

Behind her success is a strong sales talk to convince department store executives to use artistic decor.

"THERE'S NO DOUBT artistic displays bring increased business," she maintains. "A man rushes through his shopping and rarely notices the inside of a store. But women notice. They're interested in new things—the newer the ideas, the more women appreciate them."

"Entering a fine store," she says, "gives housewives a feeling of grandeur and luxury they don't get at home. But the store must have good merchandise and good service, too. All things being equal, attractive and artistic wall decorations make the store more beautiful."

Her sales talk worked. Now the Philadelphia society girl spends five months a year on her scaffold and figures she walks a mile and a half daily climbing up and down.

Shirley Tattersfield, ex-Philadelphia society belle, now spends five months a year painting murals on department-store walls.

filled with tension and pressure. This is especially true when she works 50 hours straight as she did to finish a mural in Washington, D.C.

What does she do to ease the tension? "I lie myself to the ladies' room, have a good cry," she says, "and go back to finish my job."

HER AMBITION IS to have the time, cooperation, budget and inspiration to do something really monumental. Whenever possible, she uses motifs in keeping with the locale of the store, whether it's in New York or North Carolina.

A flair for whimsy comes through in her painting. In Miami Beach she played up the feeling that the city is an "unbelievable resort for people wishing to escape from the believable."

Writing the directions to the ladies' room on the back of hand-other personal touch. Her shirts she snitches from her father and from beaux. She wears them three or four days and then throws them away. Her one pair of eight-year-old blue jeans is a memento of an ex-beau.

WHENEVER SHE WORKS during store hours, her ex-model features and quick brush draw a crowd. However, fellow workers often don't recognize her off the scaffold. They do spot her trademark—orthopedic shoes with built-in arches and foam rubber.

"Wherever I go people know me by them. When I go out to lunch and leave my shoes, everyone recognizes them and knows I'm around."

Also a poetess, Shirley has had poems published in magazines. But a little boy's query to his mother on Shirley's efforts was anything but poetic: "How come you can't do that? She's just using an ordinary paint brush."

choosing pink and navy accessories and having a corsage of pink roses, Mrs. Newmaker navy and white accessories and pink roses. Grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Schussler and Mrs. Myrtle Newmaker, of Warren, and Mrs. John Dexter, were remembered with white carnation corsages, and the bride's sister, Mrs. Virginia Barnhart, with a deep pink carnation corsage.

The reception for 75 relatives followed in the church parlors, where the bride's table was appointed with white tapers and a center arrangement of spring flowers in pastel shades. The three-tiered cake was served by Josephine Garber, Jean Harman and Marybelle Carr poured, Mrs. Virginia Barnhart managed the guest book.

One of town guests were from East Orange, N. J.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Buffalo and Jamestown, N. Y.; Cleveland, O.; Hatboro, Green-ville, Huntington, Russell, Lan-der, Kane, and Youngsville.

For a wedding trip to Wash-ington, D. C., the bride selected a black and gray ensemble, with her bridal orchid.

After May 1, the couple will be at home to friends at 301 East Fifth avenue. Graduates of War-ren High Class of '53, the bride is employed in the accounting depart-ment of Pennsylvania Gas Com-pany; Mr. Newmaker is a student at Penn College in Cleveland and is locally employed in the engineering department of Interlectric Cor-poration.

Parties given for the bride-elect included a shower by Rosanne Cochran and Marilyn Johnson; a shower by Mr. Newmaker's moth-er; a dinner by girls of the Gas Company office. The rehearsal din-ner was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Weiler, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom.

Dickson Class Members Enjoy Annual Banquet

Dickson Class members of First Presbyterian church enjoyed a pleasant get-together for their annual banquet at the YWCA activities building, with places for 28 at a springtime table, centered with flowers and having Easter-bonnet favors.

For the program, Miss Hulda Angermann gave a prayer; Mrs. Donald H. Spencer read "Reminis-cences", written by Mrs. John Sill in 1903 and recalling some of the humorous incidents of the class history.

Members enjoyed a real musical treat in the appearance of six soloists from Warren Boy Choir: Jim Eldridge singing "Remember"; Blaine Miller, "Cinco Robles"; Bill Eldridge, "Que Sera Sera"; Victor Rice, "Banana Boat Song"; Bob Mayes, "A Rose and a Baby Ruth"; Frank Nichols, "Young Love". Ac-companying the young singers, as usual, was Miss Adelaide Swanson.

Serving as committees for the annual event were Mrs. Harris Johnson, Mrs. Dorothy Brenner, Mrs. Donald Cramer and Miss Jean Steele.

MRS. FREDERICK C. NEWMARKER, JR.

Easter lilies, centered with a large white illuminated cross formed an impressive setting in Grace Methodist church April 20 for the marriage of Sylvia Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Smith of 604 Edgewood street, to Frederick Charles Newmaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Newmaker, 348 East Fifth avenue.

The Rev. C. W. Baldwin performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p. m.; Richard Pratt was at the console to play "Walk Hand in Hand", "You'll Never Walk Alone", "All the Things You Are", and traditional wedding airs; Ray Bennett sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer".

With a ballerina length gown of lace and tulle, the bride carried a white Eble topped with a yellow-throated orchid and shower of white streamers tied with tiny white hyacinth florets. The fitted lace bodice of her gown featured a sabrina neckline and saxon sleeves, the bouffant skirt of tulle over hoops was accented with lace appliques in points. Completing her outfit, her veil of silk illusion fell fingertip length from a cap sprinkled with rhinestones, and her tiny pearl earrings were the bridegroom's gift.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, she had as her only attendant her cousin, Rosanne Cochran. Her Alice blue ballerina gown was styled on princess lines, with full skirt, and was matched by a veiled-cap. Her flowers were a colonial arrangement of yellow carnations and net, with blue hyacinths and yellow streamers.

Richard Newmaker was best man for his brother; ushering were Charles Johnson, John Timm and Wilford Winner.

Mothers of the principals were gowned in navy blue, Mrs. Smith

She Paints With the Crowd in Mind

BY AILEEN SNOODY
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Once upon a time a little girl named Shirley Tattersfield and another little girl named Grace Kelly matched pinkies in Philadelphia.

Life has put them both on a pink cloud. Only Shirley paints her own cloud. Her postage-stamp kingdom is a paint-splattered scaffold in department stores.

From her muddled days Shirley wanted to be an artist. A Philadelphia society debut, modeling career and movie contract didn't stop her. Today she is one of the few women to succeed in the field of murals and displays for department stores.

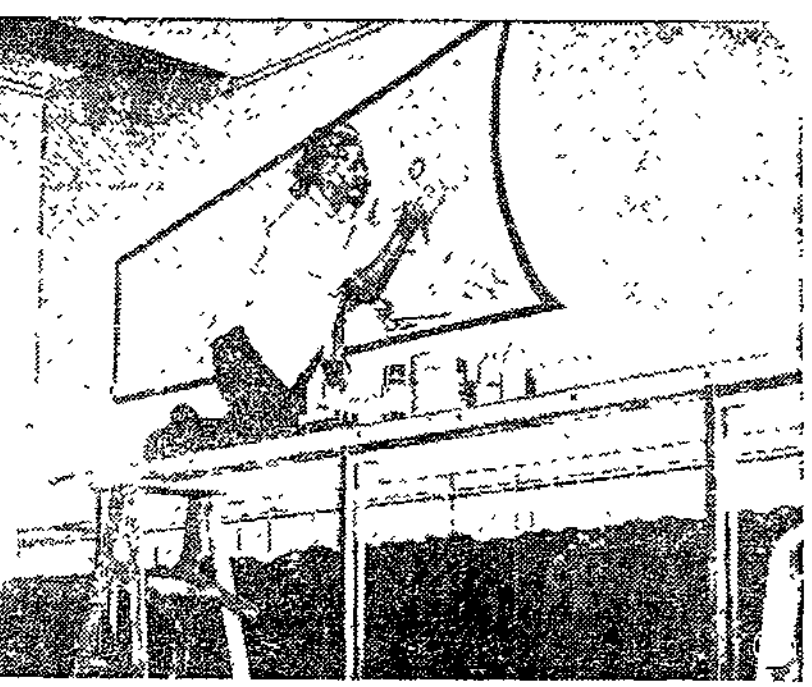

Behind her success is a strong sales talk to convince department store executives to use artistic decor.

"THERE'S NO DOUBT artistic displays bring increased business," she maintains. "A man rushes through his shopping and rarely notices the inside of a store. But women notice. They're interested in new things—the newer the ideas, the more women appreciate them."

"Entering a fine store," she says, "gives housewives a feeling of grandeur and luxury they don't get at home. But the store must have good merchandise and good service, too. All things being equal, attractive and artistic wall decorations make the store more beautiful."

Her sales talk worked. Now the Philadelphia society girl spends five months a year on her scaffold and figures she walks a mile and a half daily climbing up and down.

The work is strenuous and

filled with tension and pressure. This is especially true when she works 50 hours straight as she did to finish a mural in Washington, D.C.

What does she do to ease the tension?

"I lie myself to the ladies' room, have a good cry," she says, "and go back to finish my job."

HER AMBITION IS to have the time, cooperation, budget and inspiration to do something really monumental. Whenever possible, she uses motifs in keeping with the locale of the store, whether it's in New York or North Carolina.

A flair for whimsy comes through in her painting. In Miami Beach she played up the feeling that the city is an "unbelievable resort for people wishing to escape from the believable."

Writing the directions to the ladies' room on the back of hand-me-down shirts she wears is another personal touch. Her shirts she snatches from her father and from beaux. She wears them three or four days and then throws them away. Her one pair of eight-year-old blue jeans is a memento of an ex-beau.

WHENEVER SHE WORKS during store hours, her ex-model features and quick brush draw a crowd. However, fellow workers often don't recognize her off the scaffold. They do spot her trademark—orthopedic shoes with built-in arches and foam rubber.

"Wherever I go people know me by them. When I go out to lunch and leave my shoes, everyone recognizes them and knows I'm around."

Also a poetess, Shirley has had poems published in magazines. But a little boy's query to his mother on Shirley's efforts was anything but poetic:

"How come you can't do that? She's just using an ordinary paint brush."

KANE POSTMASTER
Lloyd P. Thompson, of Kane, one of that area's best known men through varied activities in life-long residence in Mt. Jewett and Kane, Saturday afternoon was sworn into the office of acting postmaster at Kane post office, filling a vacancy existing since January following the death of John G. O'Connor. Postal Inspector F. A. Allaine, of Warren, made the announcement. Several candidates have been active for the post and will probably take the civil service examinations. Mr. Thompson will become the first Republican acting postmaster in Kane more than a score of years. R. E. Holland served a decade ahead of Mr. O'Connor, who also had more than ten years on that job, four years of which were served in "acting postmaster" capacity. The appointment of Mr. Thompson went through Senate postal committee channels early this week to be cleared by Postmaster General Summerfield. Inspectors Allaine, of Warren, and F. R. Filburn, of Erie, were in Kane Saturday to clear routine with Mr. Thompson. The job would normally be handled by Field Services Officer J. G. Brogan, of the Pittsburgh office, who is out of the area at the present time. Mr. Thompson was advised by telephone yesterday of the appointment and, in routine action, resigned his job as inspector of weights and measures in McKean county, a post he has filled for a number of years. In that field, Mr. Thompson had served as president of the Pennsylvania Association, Inspectors of Weights and Measures, and has served on the legislative committee of the state organization.

If the puppies are no longer wanted by the owner, information will be appreciated for homes available to them.

BRAVES MAKE IT 9 AND 1 AT EXPENSE OF REDLEGS; LEAD
NATIONAL BY 2 FULL GAMES

By ED WILKS

The season is just two weeks old, but Milwaukee's determined Braves have won 9 of 10 and the rest of the National League teams, particularly Brooklyn and Cincinnati, may find out it's later than they think.

Milwaukee's record, padded with a 3-2 victory at Cincinnati yesterday that completed a three-game sweep from the Redlegs, has provided a two-game lead. Not particularly impressive? Perhaps, but Brooklyn had only a three-game lead after sweeping its first 10 games in 1955—the year the Dodgers won the pennant by 13½ games.

The Braves won without a home run for the first time in four games yesterday. They did it by bunching a portion of their nine hits and killing the Redlegs with four double plays.

Doubles by Billy Bruton and Del Crandall, a bunt single and a sacrifice fly wrapped up Milwaukee's fourth. Red Murrill nailed the victory in relief of Taylor Phillips. Tom Acker was the loser.

The second-place Dodgers fell another game behind, shut out by Pittsburgh's Bob Friend 3-0. St. Louis swept two from Chicago 6-2 and 4-0, with Lindy McDaniel, Tom Cheney and Herm Wehmeier allowing the Cubs just five hits in the double-header. Philadelphia rapped the Giants 11-2, but trailed 8-7 when a curfew suspended play in the second game after 6½ innings.

Chicago's White Sox hold a one-game edge in the American after defeating Kansas City 5-3. New York Yankees stopped the Bosox' winning streak at five games 3-2 on Yogi Berra's 10th inning home run.

Detroit and Cleveland split their twin bill, with the Indians winning 3-2 in 10 after the Tigers had won 2-0. Washington defeated Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings, but lost the second game 3-2.

McDaniel, backed up by Stan Musial's three RBIs on two singles and his first home run, granted the Cubs only three hits in the opener. Then Cheney and Wehmeier went to work. Cheney allowed two hits, both in the fifth and gave way to Wehmeier, who pitched perfect ball the rest of the way.

Rookie Jack Sanford one-hit the Giants for seven innings, then left in favor of Bob Miller in a two-run eighth in the opener. The Phils, with Rip Repulski and Chico Fernandez each homering and driving in three runs, wropped it up with seven runs in the eighth. The Giants overcame a 5-1 deficit in the night cap with a six-run fifth—capped by Gail Harris' fourth consecutive double. It will be completed Aug. 16.

CATCHER CAUGHT—Yogi Berra was caught in a run-down play when Gil McDougald rolled to George Kell of the Orioles at Yankee Stadium. Joe Ginsberg finally had to throw the ball back to the third baseman, who made the putout.

Pirates, Only Team
To Beat Bums, Add
Third Loss Sunday

Pittsburgh (P) — The Pittsburgh Pirates had an open date today after triumphing the Brooklyn Dodgers 3-0. They meet the St. Louis Cardinals for the first time this season tomorrow night at Forbes Field.

Bob Friend twirled a seven-hitter against the Dodgers yesterday to chalk up his second victory compared with two defeats. He fanned two and walked four.

He gave up only two extra base hits, both to Gil Hodges who doubled in the second and tripled in the sixth.

Roger Craig, now 1-1, went to the mound for the Dodgers and was charged with the loss after giving up the Pirates' first run in the fifth inning. That tally came across when Dick Groat singled, advanced to second on a sacrifice and scored on Hank Foiles' single.

Craig was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and was replaced by Clem Labine who gave up the other two Pirate runs.

They got one in the seventh when Gene Freese tripled and scored on Groat's fly to center field. The Pirates tallied again in the eighth when Bill Virdon doubled, moved to third on a fielder's choice and scored on Frank Thomas' single.

The defeat was the third for the second-place Dodgers. All three defeats have been at the hands of the Pirates, now tied for fifth with Cincinnati.

Robinson on Short
End of 3 to 1 Odds
In Fullmer Fight

By The Associated Press

Is Sugar Ray Robinson finished? The betting odds of 3-1 against him in his return title fight with middleweight champion Gene Fullmer would indicate that the once great Harlem dandy has reached the end of a long career.

But once before Robinson had those same long odds against him and he came through sensationally. That was on Dec. 9, 1955, in Chicago when Sugar Ray knocked out Bobo Olson in the second round to capture the middleweight crown for the third time.

Robinson, who will be 37 by the record book and 36 by his own score May 3, will be seeking a fourth reign when he takes on the 25-year-old Fullmer at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night. The 15-round fight will be broadcast and telecast.

Tonight's television 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena pits veteran welterweight Joe Mcel, New York, against Jackie LaBua of East Meadow, N. Y.

Du Mont will telecast at 9:30 p. m., EDT.

Eddie Machen, winner of all 20 of his pro fights and ranked as the No. 2 heavyweight challenger, faces Joe Maxim in a return radio-television 10-rounder at Louisville, Ky., Friday night. Machen outpointed Maxim at Miami Jan. 25.

Bell Threatens Oldest Track Record in Broadjump After He Pulls Ironman Stint in Relays

By ED CORRIGAN

Philadelphia (P)—The oldest world record in the track and field record book—the one that has withstood challenges for more than two decades—could fall this year.

It was on May 23, 1935, at the University of Michigan, that the great Jesse Owens started the track world by broad jumping 26 feet 8½ inches.

George Bell, a University of Indiana junior studying dentistry, could be the man to break Owens' record.

The closest he has come so far was the 26-6½ mark he made in the Olympics last year in Melbourne. That effort wiped out Owens' Olympic standard of 26-5½.

In the Penn Relays over the weekend, Bell got off a 26-1½ leap. While it did not approach his best, it was just six inches better than his mark of a year ago, an indication of his phenomenal progress.

Bell pulled an iron man stunt at the relays, winning the 100 in 9.7 and running anchor on two Indiana relay teams, neither of which won. But his efforts won him the most valuable individual award.

Villanova, with Olympic champions Ron Delany and Charlie Jenkins the standouts, won three of the eight major relays—the distance medley 10:10.7, the sprint medley 3:24.3 and the mile 3:12.7.

Texas, which set world records in both the quarter and half mile relays earlier in the season, won both its specialties, taking the 440 in 41.1 and the 880 in 1:25.4. Both were considerably off their world marks, possibly because of the sharp turns on the Franklin Field track.

ST. JOSEPH'S TEAM WON
ROLLOFF IN K OF C LEAGUE

In the rolloff of the Knights of Columbus league at the Arcade Alleys Friday night St. Joseph's beat Notre Dame—2487 to 2404.

Ward Piccirillo's 203 and 555 were best for the winners and Louie Barone's 221 and 565 were best for the losers.

Dr. VerMilyea Memorial Fund Is Still $450 Short of Amount Needed For Proposed Chimes

Mildred Wiltzie, general chairman for the Dr. VerMilyea Memorial Fund at Russell, reports the total has now reached $538, which is approximately $450 short of the amount needed to purchase and install the proposed Memorial Chimes in the Methodist church.

The committee hopes to be able to announce by May 14th, birthday anniversary of the late Dr. VerMilyea, that sufficient funds have been raised to assure the purchase. To this end, it will be appreciated if those who plan to make contributions will do so as soon as possible.

Contributions may be sent to the Dr. VerMilyea Memorial Committee, Russell, Pa., or left at the Clarence Akeley Grocery, and those who are one of the doctor's "babies" are asked to indicate that fact with their gift.

The following "babies" have been registered, with gifts, since April 1 and are in addition to a list previously printed in these columns:

Where Did You First Meet Your New Car?

Was it in an advertisement? So often the first meeting is . . . and how much it means to you and your family now. But it means even more to countless others, whose jobs depend on car sales.

When you buy a car, you help pay the salaries of your local dealer's salesmen. Part of your money went into their bank accounts, to their grocers, to other suppliers here in Warren. The circle goes on widening to include literally thousands all over America . . . all kinds of people in all kinds of jobs.

They buy cars, too, and millions of other items every day. Many of these sales begin with advertising on newspaper pages like this, country-wide.

So you can say, truthfully, that every time advertising helps to make a sale, your own paycheck and your family's way of living are just that much more secure.

Advertising Benefits YOU!
